

Company: Managed by Q (also known as Q)

Description: Managed by Q is the platform for workplace management, saving businesses valuable time by connecting them to the services required to seamlessly operate their space.

With a vision to build the operating system for the working world, Q's marketplace powers office operations for thousands of top companies nationwide, from fast-growing startups to Fortune 500 brands. As the workplace continues to evolve, Q is expanding its services and broadening its capabilities to help companies create an ideal workspace that reflects their unique culture.

With acquisition of Hivy and its incorporation into the interface, Q is now equipped to better handle a large number of users participating and engaging in the management of a workspace. Through the acquisition of NVS, Q is positioned to disrupt the landscape of commercial real estate by partnering with brands to find, plan and build out a working space that exemplifies their vision.

Q's technology not only increase efficiencies in workspaces, but economically empowers communities and provides opportunities to small businesses. Through Q's system of record, clients are able to build strong, direct relationships with services providers in their community.

Founded in 2014 with $72.5M in funding to date, Q was established on the principle of creating a "good jobs strategy." The hallmark of Q's business is its commitment to creating impactful and sustainable jobs, by fostering career development and creating economic opportunities for its staff.
